THE GARY FAMILY IN ENGLAND

TRADITION has placed the home of the Gary family in England as one of long standing in Bishop's Stortford, Hertfordshire. Tradition is illusive, at best; invariably inaccurate, and often absolutely erroneous. That this particular branch of the Gary family, from which Arthur Gary (1599-1666), the American ancestor sprang, did however, for two generations at least reside in Bishop's Stortford is proven from researches made by Mrs. John Ellis of Evanston, Illinois, who kindly furnished the result of her labors to the compiler of this record. Mrs. Ellis's work comprised verbatim copies of all Gary entries in the parish registers of Bishop's Stortford and Little Hadham (adjoining parishes) in Hertfordshire. Mrs. Ellis's notes are substantiated moreover by a somewhat exhaustive and highly intelligent report made by Hardy and Page, Record Agents of London, a part of which is here given.

While the report is not all one might wish in the vein of throwing light on the English connections of the family of Gary and that of Warman, the natal name of the immigrant's wife, it will serve to show the thoroughness into which the investigation was entered and may add at least negative information to the inquirer and aid those who might, in the future, desire to follow up more fully the clues and suggestions contained in the report.

From the above stated authorities the following proven pedigree is tabulated:

- I. William Gary; living in Bishop's Stortford in 1592. He died there May 1, 1611.
- II. Nathaniel Gary, son of the above, living in Bishop's Stortford in 1602 and mentioned in the will of John Grace (see Water's Gleanings) and on record as living there as late as 1642 when he had a home in North Street. He died in 1646. By his wife Joane—, who died Sept. 13, 1615, he had at least two sons: Arthur, baptized May 20, 1599 and John, baptized Nov. 29, 1601. This latter married Jan. 1, 1628/9, Mary Poynnings.
- III. Arthur Gary, son of the above, baptized in Bishop's Stortford, May 20, 1599, married there April 18, 1625, Frances Warman of Albery. At the time of his marriage he is styled "of Little Hadham," the parish which joins Bishop's Stortford. They were the parents of one child on record in England, William Gary, baptized at Little Hadham Aug. 22, 1628. Arthur Gary was the immigrant ancestor of the American branch of this family. (See Gary Family in America.)

GARY PEDIGREE

In accordance with your instructions we have devoted our attention to a general search in regard to the above matter (Gary Pedigree), keeping in mind your desire to show, if possible, an actual or probable connection between the family at Bishop's Stortford and Little Hadham (both in East Hertfordshire) and the armigerous family, seated for many generations at Bushmead, in Bedfordshire.

The manors of Bishop's Stortford and Little Hadham formed, till recently, part of the endowment of the bishopric of London; and—after obtaining permission of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners of England (in whom the bishopric estates were, about 1850, vested) and of Sir Walter Gilbey, baronet, to whom the Commissioners sold the manor of Bishop's Stortford a few years ago—we proceeded to examine the manorial records of these manors.

The result was disappointing! The series of Court Rolls is singularly incomplete. For the reign of Elizabeth there are but four rolls (19 Elizabeth, 20–22 Elizabeth, 23-26 Elizabeth and 27 Elizabeth). For the reign of James I. there is but one roll (2 James I). Whilst for the reign of Charles I. there is not a single roll.

The Bailiffs' Accounts of Bishop's Stortford which we have so far found are not rendered in any detail; so that we got hardly any names of tenants.

We have now to report a very significant fact. In the Court Rolls of Bishop's Stortford still extant, there is not a single entry relating to the name of Gary or to that of Warman; though hundreds of names occur in the admissions to copyholds, in the records of the receipt of fines for trivial offences, and the like.

There appear to be a number of parochial records at Bishop's Stortford, in the custody of the church-wardens, besides the registers of baptisms, marriages and burials. Very copious extracts from these miscellaneous documents (some of which go back to the fifteenth century) were printed in 1882 by the late Mr. Glasscock, and from this work we send you every entry relating either to the name Gary or Warman.

In 1642 (a few years after Arthur Gary had left England) we have reference to Nathaniel Gary, evidently his father, who then resided in North Street, Bishop's Stortford. In the same document there is reference to John Warman, who lived in South Street.

There is one more document amongst these parish records to which we would draw your attention. It may have been a mere coincidence that, when in 1692 an enquiry was held as to the misappropriation of charities in Bishop's Stortford, the particular Master in Chancery who had the matter in hand was Sir Thomas Gary, or Gery, a member of the Bedfordshire family to which you refer in your instructions to us. As we have just said, this may be merely a coincidence; but, on the other hand, it may be that the Court of Chancery selected this particular officer because he had some kind of connection with Bishop's Stortford.

Having exhausted Mr. Glasscock's volume we turned our attention to wills. We have exhausted the Gary and Warman wills in the general prerogative court, and in all local courts which had probate jurisdiction over Bishop's Stortford or Hadham, from the reign of Elizabeth to the Restoration period, and we send you very copious extracts from these and from certain miscellaneous documents.

In the wills of the Bedfordshire people we fail to find any reference to relations in Bishop's Stortford, or indeed to property in or near that place.

In the wills and miscellaneous documents relating to East Hertfordshire and Essex you will find conclusive evidence that in both these localities there were families of Gary in places at no great distance from Bishop's Stortford. It is certainly strange that there is not one testator from Bishop's Stortford itself; yet, as we said earlier in this report, the probate courts, the records of which we have examined, are the only courts which had probate jurisdiction over Bishop's Stortford, and we are forced to the conclusion that the connection of the Gary or Warman families with that place cannot have been ancient.

The sketch pedigree which you kindly sent us states that Arthur Gary, the emigrant, was baptised at Bishop's Stortford in 1599, and that his brother John was baptised there in 1601. In Mr. Glasscock's book the earliest reference to the family occurs in 1592. True Mr. Glasscock has not printed the Churchwarden's Accounts in full; but we cannot help thinking that, had the Garys or Warmans been resident in Bishop's Stortford for many generations, there would have been some mention of them in Mr. Glasscock's extracts.

There are one or two points in regard to this particular batch of documents to which we should also like to draw your attention:— In the will of Joan Rogers, dated in 1646, the testatrix refers to her "cousins" William Gary, Elizabeth his wife, and Richard Gary, and to her cousin Warman "once my servant." This connection of the names Gary and Warman is certainly worth noting, though, unfortunately, the testatrix gives no hint as to the residence of these kinsfolk, nor does she make it apparent whether they were kinsfolk of herself or of her late husband.

In none of the Warman wills sent herewith is there anything to throw light on the parentage of Frances who became the wife of Arthur Gary. We should here mention that the baptism of the child of Arthur and Frances Gary is the only reference to the name Gary in the parish register of Little Hadham, and the only reference to the name Warman until the early years of the 18th century, when the name occurs somewhat frequently.

We do not at all despair of being able to trace the ancestry of Arthur Gary by further searches.

THE GARY FAMILY IN AMERICA

ARTHUR' GARY was baptized in Bishop's Stortford, Hertfordshire, England, May 20, 1599, and was the son of Nathaniel and Joane (——) Gary. He married there, April 18, 1625, Frances Warman, who was born in 1601. At the time of his marriage he is styled "of Little Hadham", (a parish adjoining Bishop's Stortford,) and his wife as "of Albery". It is evident that their home in England after marriage was Little Hadham, as the baptism of their son William is recorded in the parish register of that place.

One tradition states that Arthur Gary came to America on the ship Abigail in 1635, which sailed from Plymouth, Eng., but his name is not included in the passenger list of that vessel. He was, however, an early resident of Roxbury, Mass., where he was admitted a Freeman of the Colony on March 14, 1638/9.

He was a town proprietor, and he and his wife were among the earliest members of the First Church of Roxbury (the Rev. John Eliot pastor). He was one of the first subscribers to the Roxbury Grammar school, the first free school established in America, 1645. The lineal successor of this famous school is the well-known Latin and English high school of Roxbury of our own times. Arthur Gary's home lot was west of Stony brook and south of Heath street, next to the home lot of William Heath, another pioneer settler of Roxbury.

He died in Roxbury, Dec. 17, 1666, aged 67, "having been distracted 18 weeks." His widow died in Roxbury, October 10, 1672, and her gravestone is to be found in the Eustis street cemetery near the Dudley street terminal of the Boston Elevated Railway, Boston. To the left of her stone as one faces it is a portion of another old stone on which the inscription is entirely obliterated, this undoubtedly is the original stone erected to the memory or Arthur Gary, the founder ancestor of this now widely scattered American family.

The Roxbury Land Records: June 1639, Book 1st, gives the earliest record of land granted to Arthur Gary in this country:—

"Arthor Gary (granted by the town of Roxbury) seaven Accres and a halfe for a great Lott at the great Pond lying next to Edward Bugbie towards Dedham path one end of it abutting to the railes of Phillip Elliott and also fower accres and a halfe at Muddy river (Brookline) abutting to John Perry his highway to his meade."

Arthur Gary was also one of the owners of the 1,000 acre lot at Dedham in 1657.

A note of the estates and persons of the inhabitants of "Rocksbury" in 1640/1 refers to Arthur Gary as follows:

From the book of Possessions of Roxbury, page 46, we find the description of Arthur Gary's realty holdings as follows:—

Arthur Gary his house Barne and lott. fiue accres more or less an accre of it being exchanged with William Heath, butting upon the heires of William Heath of John Perry, and of John Graues, and one corner of it upon the highway southwest, and foure accres and a halfe upon a lane leading to the meadow of the heires of William Heath, and so compassed with the lands of Mr. John Gore, John Roberts, Robert Prentiss, and the heires of Thomas Ruggles, and foure accres and three quarters neare the great pond, compassed with the lands of Phillip Elliott, the heires of Thomas Ruggles, Edward Bugby, and the lotts in the last deuission, and in the Nookes next Boston being the twelfe lott, lying betweene William Lewis, and the Assignes of Edward White, eighteene accres, one quarter and twenty rode and one accre of salt marsh upon Edward Porter the Assignes of Richard Pepper, and Thomas Griggs, and so compassed with the sea, and in the thousand accres neare Deddam fifteene accres, and two accres of salt marsh more or lesse bought of Richard Pepper abutting upon John Griggs next the sea, and upon Mr. Thomas Bell south, and upon Edward Porter west, and twenty seuen accres and a halfe and ten pole bought of Richard Burnopp lying in the second deuission the sixteenth lott being betweene the lott of Abraham How and Mr. Thomas Dudley, and two accres and three roodes more or lesse as it lyeth with in fence layed out, the ends thereof upon the hill behind the great pond as it is staked out or marked betweene William Lion, one end at a water ditch of little pond their and the other end at the great pond, and so lying the sides their of betweene Edward Bugbyes lott, and a lott of Daniell Fullers, and in the thousand accres neare Dedam twenty four accres. William Heath his heires and assignes for ever are bound as appeares by writing and witnesse to make and maintaine for ever that part of the fence which did belong to Arthur Gary in the swamp betweene his ground that he bought of John Graues about forty rodds more or lesse, for the which the sayd Arthur Gary hath fully payd and satisfied the sayd William Heath. It appeares allso by an agreement betweene the sayd William Heath and Arthur Gary, that Arthur Gary is to have a highway from the house of the sayd Arthur to the highway leading to muddy riuer [Brookline] which highway he perchassed of and satisfied the sayd William Heath for.

^{*} The figures on the right of the name, sometimes erroneously supposed to indicate the number of persons in the respective households, have an obvious correspondence to the number of acres given in the column on the left, and are doubtless a valuation in pounds and shillings.

Abstract of the will of Arthur Gary of Roxbury, Mass. from Vol. 1, page 480 of the Suffolk County Probate records:—

"Hauing formerly disposed of my Housing, my Orchard, & my Home Lott & seuerall of my mouables to my sonn, Samuell Gary, & seuerall other of my mouables & goods vnto him & to my other two sonns (to witt) William Gary & Nathaniell, as Appeares by my deed of guift made to him & the writing giuen vnder my hands vnto him & them according to the tearmes as are in those writtings Expressed, The Lord being pleased to vissitt mee with much infirmity & weakness yet hauing the perfect use of my vnderstanding & memory, doe make this my Last will. My soul I giue vp into the hands of my most mercifull Sauiour Jesus Christ, & my body I leaue to my deare wife & Louing children to bee decently interred; and for all the rest of my Worldly goods which I die possessed of, whether it bee housing, Lands, Cattle, Corne, mouables, or whatseuer else, I dispose of it as followeth:—

"That my funerall Charges shall bee sattisfyed & all other debts discharged. My will is, my deare wife, Frances Gary, shall have the vse of my Housing & Lands, & my whole Estate during her life, Excepting as before. After my wives decease, my will is, that all my Lands & whole Estate, as is before Expressed, bee Equally devided betweene my three sonns, William, Nathaniell & Samuell Gary. Every one of them to have their proportion of Land, soe as may bee neerest, most Convenient, & bennificiall for Every of them.

SECOND GENERATION

Deacon William² Gary (*Arthur*¹) was baptized in Little Hadham, Hertfordshire, Eng., Aug. 22, 1628. He accompanied his parents to America and settled in Roxbury, Mass. He was admitted a Freeman of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, May 26, 1652. He married first, in Roxbury, Aug. 25, 1651, Hannah Curtis, born in Roxbury about 1633, daughter of William and Sarah (Eliot) Curtis and niece of the Rev. John Eliot. She died before 1677 and he married second, Elizabeth Parker, born in Woburn, Mass., March 12, 1645, daughter of Captain James and Elizabeth (Long) Parker of Woburn. She was confirmed as a member of the Roxbury Church, June 26, 1677, and received into full communion in the same, July 29, 1677. She died after 1712.

William Gary was confirmed as a member of the "Apostle Eliot's" Church, Nov. 23, 1651 and became a leading member of that ecclesiastical body, being ordained Deacon of the same in January 1686/7. He was much employed as the overseer of estates and is named as the executor of many wills of the more prominent Roxbury inhabitants. The files of the Superior Court (Suffolk County, Mass.) show that he was a Grand Juror to the Court of Assistants in March 1676/7 and in November 1689. In 1675 he was elected Deputy (or Representative) from Roxbury to the Great and General Court of Massachusetts Bay. He died in Roxbury, Sept. 4, 1712, "aged 83."

No issue.

NATHANIEL² GARY (*Arthur*¹) was born in England about 1631. He accompanied his parents to America and settled in Roxbury, Mass. He was admitted to the Roxbury church in 1652. He married in Roxbury, Mass., Oct. 14, 1658, Anne Douglas, born in 1637, daughter of Deacon William and Anne (Mattle) Douglas of New London, Conn., and granddaughter of Thomas Mattle of Ringstead, Northamptonshire, England. She was admitted to the Roxbury Church, Sept. 22, 1661.

Nathaniel Gary was a successful planter and respected citizen of Roxbury and died of small pox, in early manhood, on Jan. 28, 1678, leaving a widow and large family of young children none of whom were of age. His widow married second, June 7, 1683, Thomas Bishop of Roxbury and died there, Sept. 16, 1691.

At a County Court, held in Boston, April 29, 1679, power of administration of all goods, estates and credits of Nathaniel Gary, late of Roxbury, deceased, intestate, was granted unto Anne, his "Relict Widdow", she giving bond to administer the said estate according to law and to bring in an inventory thereof upon oath.

At a County Court of Suffolk, held in Boston, April 29, 1684, power of administration of the estate of Nathaniel Gary, sometime of Roxbury, deceased, intestate, formerly granted unto Anne, his widow, "(who is since married)" at the request of the eldest son of said Gary, was granted unto William Gary and John Chandler, both of Roxbury and it was ordered that the former, Anne Gary, render an account to them of her administration thus far and they to make a new inventory de bonis non administratis and present to the next court for settlement. This inventory was presented July 23, 1684 and showed realty to the amount of £103. The final settlement was in November of that year.

Samuel² Gary (*Arthur*¹) was born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 22, 1638. He was admitted a Freeman of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, April 29, 1668. He was one of the signers of the Censure against the training of youths at Harvard College in 1672 (N. E. Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. 35, Page 122.) He was a soldier in King Philip's War in October 1675, being a member of Capt. Thomas Brattle's company. He served on the inquest on the death of Samuel Peacock, July 1694 and was a Grand Juror in April 1695. (Superior Court Files, Suffolk County.)

He married first, Dec. 6, 1669, Elizabeth Parker, born April 29, 1649 in Roxbury, daughter of Edmund and Elizabeth (Howe) Parker of Roxbury and Lancaster, Mass. She died Nov. 20, 1676. He married second, June 19, 1677, Martha Clark, baptized in Roxbury, April 25, 1648, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Wright) Clark. (Proof of this fact and the exact marriage date may be found in a deposition in the case of James Pierpont, in the Superior Court Files, Suffolk County, Vol. 49, Page 83.)

Samuel Gary died in Roxbury, Oct. 12, 1715 and his widow died there in August 1730.

The will of Martha (Clark) Gary dated June 23, 1720, and proved Aug. 31, 1730, mentions cousins, Martha Reed, Susanna Steiner, Mary and Margaret Bastow, kinsman Samuel Heath, and "my well beloved friend" William Heath as executor.

- xii. Zebediah⁴ Abbott, born 1706.

NATHANIEL³ GARY (Nathaniel, ² Arthur¹) was born in Roxbury, Mass., July 4, 1663, and was baptized there on the day following his birth. He was received to take hold on the covenant of the Roxbury church Nov. 14, 1686. He married Nov. 12, 1685, Anne Rice. She was undoubtedly the daughter (birth unrecorded) of John Rice, an early settler of Dedham, Mass. Documentary proof exists that she did not belong to the Deacon Edmund Rice family of Sudbury, as has been claimed by several genealogists.

Nathaniel Gary was among the thirteen original settlers of "New Roxbury," now Woodstock, Conn., in April 1686, and drew lot number 18, which contained 15 acres of land in the east vale of the town. He was an influential pioneer in this important Connecticut town and a leader in the life of the young community. In 1700 he became one of the founders of the settlement of Mashamoquet (later incorporated as Pomfret, Conn., in 1713), having disposed of his lands in Woodstock to Thomas Eaton. He was a selectman of Pomfret in 1714 and served as Grand Juror in 1715. During the last named year he removed with his family to Enfield, Conn., where he settled in the eastern part of that town.

The history of Enfield (page 16) states: "In 1715 the settlement of the east part of Enfield commenced, the first settlers were Nathaniel Gary who built a house and erected a grain mill near where Capt. Daniel Perkins formerly lived, Daniel Markham, John Gleason, Gershom Saxton and Thomas Perkins," and on page 18 "Nathaniel Gary one of the first settlers of the east part of Enfield had the extraordinary number of 12 daughters, many of whom married and had numerous families."

Anne (Rice) Gary died in "Mashamoquet" (Pomfret) Dec. 1, 1712, and Nathaniel Gary married second, Feb. 4, 1712/13, Mrs. Mary (Fairbanks) Allen, born in Medfield, Mass., Mar. 15, 1675, the daughter of Captain George and Rachel (Adams) Fairbanks, and widow of Benjamin Allen, whom she had married April 16, 1696, and by whom she had children as follows: Benjamin, 1697; Mary, 1698 (married her step-father's son Nathaniel Gary, Jr., 11); Lydia, 1700; Edward, 1703; David, 1705.

THE GARYS AS FOUNDERS OF "NEW ROXBURY," MASS. (WOODSTOCK, CONN.) AND POMFRET, CONN.

In 1682 the Colony of Massachusetts Bay became the proprietor by purchase from the Indians of a tract of land 50 miles long and 20 miles wide. This tract of land included nearly the whole of the Nipmuck country, from the confluence of the Quinnebaug and French rivers in Thompson, Conn., nearly to the northern part of Worcester County, Mass. The first grant of land by the General Court after the purchase of the Nipmuck country was made in May 1683, to Major Robert Thompson, William Stoughton, Joseph Dudley and others; very soon after this grant was made the spirit of emigration seems to have taken hold upon the people of Roxbury (Mass.) who were desirous of an "enlargement of their borders." The subject was discussed in town meetings held in Roxbury on the 6th and 10th of October, 1683, and resulted in a petition to the General Court for a grant of land for a township. The endorsement of the original petition, as well as the record of the Court reads: "Granted from this date Jan. 31, 1684 (O. S.)"

Early in the spring of 1686, the movement for the actual settlement of the new plantation began. The records of Woodstock show the following entry: "April 5, 1686:

"These are the 13 who were sent out to spy out Woodstock as planters and take actual possession: Jonathan Smithers, John Frissell, Nathaniel Gary, John Marcy, Benjamin Griggs, John Lord, Benjamin Sabin, Henry Bowen, Matthew Davis, Thomas Bacon, Peter Aspinwall, George Griggs, Ebenezer Morris."

It thus appears that at the above date they had taken possession and begun the work of breaking ground and planting. These men, the founders of the town, were soon joined by others who were closely related to them by blood, citizenship or church affiliation, and nearly all from the town of Roxbury, Mass.

About 1698 Nathaniel Gary became one of the first settlers of the new plantation of Mashamoquet (incorporated as Pomfret in 1713), settling on land east of the Purchase and received, according to tradition, as chain-bearer in laying out the tract, all he could encompass in an hours nimble running. The payment of £12 secured him in 1699 a deed of 550 acres "southeast from Woodstock" in what has since been familiarly known as the Gary neighborhood.

Desirous of becoming an independent town the inhabitants of Mashamoquet delegated Nathaniel Gary to go to Roxbury (Mass.) and inform the non-resident propritors, Mr. Jonathan Belcher, attorney for Capt. John Blackwell and also Captain Ruggles, Joseph Griffin, Thomas Mowry, Edward Weld and Daniel Dana of this intention. His mission met with the co-operation and support of the Roxbury proprietors and upon his return an agreement for a separate town government was drawn up and signed by Nathaniel Gary and 22 others, and the petition to the General Court for the incorporation of Pomfret, accompanying the agreement, was signed by Nathaniel Gary and his brother Samuel Gary, (10).

Feb. 16, 1714, Nathaniel Gary was chosen on the committee for the selection of a site for the meeting house, and at the same meeting the call was extended to the Rev. Ebenezer Williams (Harvard 1709) of Roxbury, to become the settled pastor. The church building was completed in the autumn of that year.

At the meeting of the townsmen Dec. 6, 1714, Nathaniel Gary was elected selectman and his brothers Samuel and William to the board of listers of the town.

Miss Larned in her admirable History of Windham County relates the following which is of interest in regard to Nathaniel Gary and his church affiliations:

"Dec. 1716 a committee was chosen for fencing in the meeting-house. It was also agreed that the meeting house should be seated according to the rates they have paid—having respect to age and dignity, also, that Nathaniel Gary should have liberty to build a house in the highway for himself and family to sit in Sabba-days. This 'Sabba-day-house' accorded to Mr. Gary is the only one known within Windham County limits. It was a small house built tight and warm, with an ample fire place and a few seats and benches. Fuel was kept in readiness and a fire kindled by the first comers on Sunday morning, and then Mr. Gary, his family and their friends could warm and refresh themselves after their cold and bleak ride before assembling for worship in the fireless and freezing meeting-house."

The book of land grants of Enfield states: -

"Nathaniel Gary is possessed of a tract of land by virtue of a grant of the proprietors of Enfield to him lying near his corn mill it being 40 rods long southward and 20 rods wide eastward, bounded west by Zachariah Booth's land, north by the road to Woodstock, east by the common lands, south by the brow of Schantuck high hill, etc." (Oct. 7, 1717.) In 1719 he acquired 50 additional acres in the second division of the common lands, and other parcels in 1720 and 1734. In 1726 he was chosen surveyor of highways for the town of Enfield.

After a long life of usefulness and having been distinguished as one of the principal founders of three Connecticut municipalities, Nathaniel Gary died in Enfield in March 1740, at the age of 77 years. His widow survived him. His will is to be found in the Northampton Probate office, it was signed Mar. 24, 1740. In the instrument he mentioned his wife, Mary, his sons Nathaniel and Joshua, and daughters Hannah Goodale, Sarah Gile, Mehitable Jones, Mary Whipple, Rachel Haul (Hall) and Elizabeth Jones.

SARAH³ GARY (Nathaniel², Arthur¹) was born in Roxbury, Mass., July 3, 1665. After the marriage of her sister Elizabeth to William Abbott of Andover, Mass., she went to that town to reside and there married, July 3, 1685, John Holt, born at Andover, Jan. 14, 1663/4, son of Nicholas and Hannah (Bradstreet) Holt. He died Mar. 10, 1687, at the age of 24, and she married second, Nov. 2, 1687, John Preston, son of Roger and Martha (----) Preston of Andover. He was a soldier in the Narragansett War 1670-1675 and in later life settled in Windham, Windham County, Conn., where in 1727 he sold to "his cousin" (probably nephew) land granted to him for serving in his majesty's expedition to Narragansett under Captain Gardner, and states: "I then being of Andover and called John Preston, Jun." WILLIAM³ GARY (*Nathaniel*², *Arthur*¹) was born in Roxbury, Mass., Mar. 4, 1666/7. He early removed to Woodstock, Conn., to join his brother Nathaniel Gary who was one of the original founders of the town, and in 1700 he settled in Pomfret, the daughter town of Woodstock. He married Susanna ——.* He was a substantial farmer and a man of comfortable estates. He served as town hayward in 1730 and was on the Grand Jury in 1729. He was also a lister of the town of Pomfret in 1714 and 1721. Oct. 20, 1727, he deeded to his son John, 550 acres of land in the southeastern part of Woodstock, Conn.

^{*} Mrs. Susanna Gary was admitted to the church in Dedham, Mass., Feb. 18, 1727/8, and dismissed from the same to the church in Pomfret, Conn., June 23, 1734. Persistent search has failed to reveal her maiden name.

He died in Pomfret, Conn., Nov. 22, 1756. His will, dated at Pomfret, Mar. 22, 1754, proved Dec. 7, 1756, which states that he was far advanced in years, mentions his wife Susanna, grandson, David Towne, son of David Towne of Oxford (Mass.), son Joseph, to whom he left £5, "as he has already received his share of my estate"; and provides that the residue be divided among the children of his son John, deceased, and the children of his son Joseph. The executors were Samuel Perrin and William Sabin. The inventory of the estate presented Dec. 1, 1756, amounted to £113; 16s; 8d.

Children of William and Susanna (-----) Gary:

Hannahi³ Gary (Nathaniel, ² Arthur¹) was born in Roxbury, Mass., July 4, 1671, and was admitted to full membership in the church there in 1695. She married in Roxbury, Aug. 2, 1703, Caleb Phillips, baptized in Roxbury, July 9, 1682, the son of Caleb and Elizabeth

Phillips. Hannah Gary Phillips was ten years her husband's senior. They removed to Bellingham, Mass., soon after the incorporation of that town in 1719. Caleb Phillips was town treasurer of Bellingham in 1732. He died there Dec. 24, 1761, "in his 80th year," and she died there Jan. 12, 1762, "in her 91st year."

Children of Caleb and Hannah (Gary) Phillips: (born in Roxbury, Mass.)

i. Hannah4 Phillips, born July 5, 1704.

- v. Elizabeth4 Phillips, born Feb. 7, 1708/9.
- vi. Mary4 Phillips, born ; died June 9, 1716.

Samuel³ Gary (Nathaniel,² Arthur) was born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 7, 1673, and baptized there the same day. He removed to Woodstock, Conn., in 1689 to join his brother Nathaniel who had gone there with the original Roxbury company of settlers three years before. He married in Dedham, Mass., May 29, 1700, Sarah Lovell, born Aug. 3, 1667, in Medfield, Mass., the daughter of Alexander Lovell, Sr., by his second wife Lydia (Leland?). Alexander Lovell, who was born in 1619, came to Medfield, Mass., in 1652, with the company from Weymouth and Braintree, Mass. Sarah (Lovell) Gary was six years her husband's senior.

In 1699 Samuel Gary bought a farm in "Mashamoquet," that part of Woodstock which in 1713 was incorporated as a separate town and named Pomfret. He was one of the incorporators of the place, signing the petition to the General Court for its incorporation, a town proprietor and a member of the first board of listers of the town, elected to office in 1714. He served as town hayward in 1721, collector of taxes 1722 and on the Grand Jury in 1731. He was a surveyor of note and much employed in drawing the boundary lines of the new town and in laying out the public lands. His home was in that part of Pomfret now included in the town of Putnam, Conn., which was incorporated in 1855.

Samuel Gary was a strong character and a publicspirited citizen and the records show that in 1732 he, with Samuel Perrin and David Howe, offered to give to the town of Pomfret a public highway, leading from his farm to Howe's mill, which offer the town accepted at the annual meeting in 1732/3.

His name is mentioned often in realty transactions in the vicinity of Pomfret and the deeds show the transfer of large tracts of land to his son Josiah and his sons-in-law, William Brown and Caleb Lamb. His first wife, Sarah (Lovell) Gary died in Pomfret, Aug. 7, 1750, and he married second in Uxbridge, Mass., Nov. 10, 1752, Martha Thurston who survived him. He died in Pomfret, Nov. 19, 1759.

His will dated Oct. 9, 1759, and proved on Dec. 4, of that year, mentions his wife Martha, his "loving and only son, Josiah," and his daughters, Lydia Lamb and Martha Brown. The inventory of his estate amounted to £142: 58: 7d.

FOURTH GENERATION

NATHANIEL⁴ GARY, Jr. (Nathaniel,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur⁴) was born in Woodstock, Conn., Nov. 6, 1686, and was the first child recorded as born in that town. He married in Pomfret, Conn. , Mary Allen, born in Medfield, Mass., July 10, 1698, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (Fairbanks) Allen. Her father was an early citizen of Medfield, Mass. and removed to Ashford, Conn., in 1711 where he died the same year. Her mother Mary (Fairbanks) Allen, was the daughter of Captain George Fairbanks of Medfield and Medway, Mass. (1650–1737), and Rachel (Adams) Fairbanks. After the death of her first husband, Benjamin Allen, she married Nathaniel Gary, the father of the subject of this notice.

Nathaniel Gary was a proprietor of Ashford in 1718, and in 1719 removed to Enfield, Conn., the home of his father, as the town treasurer's book of Enfield, page 14, states: "Feb. 20, 1718/19, the selectmen have had good information that Nathaniel Gary, Jr. is come with his family to reside in ye towne on ye abovesaid day."

He was living as late as 1740.

Children of Nathaniel, Jr. and Mary (Allen) Gary:

- i. William⁵ Gary, born Nov. 3, 1713; died young.
- ii. Benjamin⁵ Gary, born Nov. 13, 1716; he was living as late as 1739 in Hadley, Mass., as a cordwainer.
- 31 iii. Sarah⁵ Gary, born May 29, 1719.
- 32 iv. Joseph⁵ Gary, born Nov. 8, 1721.
 - v. Ann⁵ Gary, born Feb. 15, 1723.

Hannah Gary (Nathaniel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Woodstock, Conn., Feb. 6, 1688/9. She married in Pomfret, Conn., May 21, 1711, Benjamin Goodale, born in Salem Village, Mass., 1687, son of Zachariah and Elizabeth (Beauchamp) Goodale of Salem, Mass. He was a temporary resident of Pomfret before 1710 and soon after his marriage removed to Marlborough, Mass. He died in Marlborough in 1754.

Children of Benjamin and Hannah (Gary) Goodale: (born in Marlborough, Mass.)

- i. Elizabeth⁵ Goodale, born Feb. 26, 1711/12; married April 30, 1730, Eleazer Hathorn.
- ii. Phinehas⁵ Goodale, born May 1, 1713.
- iii. Edward⁵ Goodale, born May 23, 1715.
- iv. Hannah⁵ Goodale, born May 31, 1717.
- v. Mary⁵ Goodale, born April 30, 1719; married Aug. 12, 1741, Josiah Howe.
- vi. Ruth⁵ Goodale, born July 10, 1721; married April 16, 1741, Joseph Gary (32).
- vii. Benjamin⁵ Goodale, born May 7, 1723; died young.
- viii. Sarah⁵ Goodale, born July 1, 1726; married Dec. 3, 1761, Josiah Ward.
 - ix. Benjamin⁵ Goodale, born Oct. 7, 1728.

SARAH⁴ GARY (Nathaniel,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur) was born in Woodstock, Conn., April 6, 1688/9; married — Gile. No further record of this daughter has been found. She is called "Sarah Gile" in the will of her father, Nathaniel Gary, in 1740.

14

Ann⁴ Garv (Nathaniel,³ Nathaniel,² *Arthur*¹) born in Woodstock, Conn., Jan. 25, 1692/3; married ,—Curly. The history of Enfield, Vol. II, p. 1866, states: "Feb. 21, 1729, Nathaniel Gary's daughter which was formerly the wife of one Curly died."

15

Joshua⁴ Gary (Nathaniel,³ Nathaniel,² *Arthur*⁴) was born in Woodstock, Conn., April 4, 1694. He accompanied his father to Enfield, Conn., in 1715. He married Oct. 29, 1718, Lydia Allen, born in 1700, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (Fairbanks) Allen, and sister of the wife of his brother Nathaniel Gary, Jr. His home in Enfield was in that part of the town which in 1734 was incorporated as the town of Somers, Conn.

"Oct. 14, 1733, ye wife of Joshua Gary having owned the covenant at Enfield was recommended and accepted here". (Somers Church Records.) In July 1721, Joshua Gary and his wife, Lydia, sold to Joseph Sexton, Jr., 13 acres "near the old saw mill in Enfield." Joshua Gary probably died in Somers or Stafford, Conn., though the fact is not on record. The records of Stafford, where undoubtedly the immediate descendants of Joshua Gary's sons lived, are in a deplorable state of mould, and illegible for the most part.

A present resident of Stafford Springs, Mr. Charles B. Gary, undoubtedly is a descendant of one of the sons of this Joshua Gary, but he is unable to furnish the record of his line or to throw additional light on this immediate branch of the family, the record of which is quite obliterated by the condition of the town records.

Lydia (Allen) Gary, the widow of Joshua Gary died at the home of her son-in-law, Enoch Larrabee in Coventry, Conn., in January 1781.

Children of Joshua and Lydia (Allen) Gary: (born in Enfield and Somers, Conn.)

Joseph⁴ Gary (William,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur¹) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Mar. 7, 1703/4. He removed to Enfield, Conn., and joined his uncle, Nathaniel Gary, who had gone to that town in 1715. Here he married Oct. 30, 1728, his own cousin, Eunice Gary (23), born in Pomfret, Conn., Oct. 25, 1714, daughter of Nathaniel Gary, by his second wife, Mary (Fairbanks) Allen.

There were surveyed and laid out to Joseph Gary five acres of the second division of the common lands of Enfield, June 13, 1732. He acquired 20 additional acres in Jan. 1734/5. In Aug. 1734, he sold to Israel Phelps, Jr., 20 acres and a dwelling house in Enfield.

Eunice (Gary) Gary died in Enfield, Conn., June 5, 1741, and Joseph Gary married second, Jan. 10, 1742, in Brooklyn, Conn., Alice Cary. He removed from Enfield in 1741 and after a brief residence in Plainfield and Killingly, Conn., settled in Voluntown, New London County, Conn., of which place he was a substantial citizen and large land owner, and of which he was a resident at the time of his death in July 1771, at the age of 68. His will, which was signed April 21, 1771, appointed his son Ezekiel his executor. The will mentions his sons, William and Ezekiel, by his first wife, and sons John and Samuel and daughter Alice, by his second wife. His second wife undoubtedly died before him.

Josiani Gary (Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Mar. 16, 1708. He married at Billerica, Mass., Dec. 16, 1746, Sarah Sprague, born in Billerica, June 15, 1729, the daughter of Nicholas (Jr.) and Elizabeth (Burge) Sprague. This marriage is also recorded at Pomfret, Conn., Jan. 12, 1746/7, which date is evidently the one on which the town clerk of Pomfret received the same for record. Josiah Gary was twenty-one years his wife's senior. He is said to have been a quiet man who led a long and useful life in that part of Pomfret which now bears his name, the Gary District, named in his honor. He was often in local office, serving as town hayward in 1746, and town collector for several years, declining a re-election to that office in 1751.

He died in Pomfret, May 23, 1780, at the age of 72, and it is related by old citizens of the place that seven sons and seven daughters were present at his funeral. He was buried in the so-called "Sabin Yard" in Pomfret, where his gravestone is still in an excellent state of preservation. In 1797 his widow had one-fourth of her town tax abated. She died in Pomfret in April 1806, aged 77 years.

Josiah Gary's will, dated June 3, 1779, mentions his wife, Sarah, who was left a life interest in the home in which they lived ("in the house which I built"), and one-third of the real and personal estate; three-fourths of the remaining two-thirds to be equally divided among the sons, and one-fourth of the remaining two-thirds to be equally divided among the daughters. The will was proved Aug. 1, 1780. The witnesses were John Lamb, Asa Hodges and Samuel Carpenter, and Samuel Gary, his son, was named as executor.

The inventory of his estate amounted to £1,645, including 282 acres of land, the appraisers being John Grosvenor, Josiah Sabin and Daniel White.

The distribution of the estate was on July 31, 1781. The daughters named in the distribution were Sarah Fling, Martha Davison, Elizabeth Brown, Hannah, Dorcas, Lucy and Polly Gary.

The inventory of the widow Sarah Gary's estate, presented April 21, 1806, showed a personal estate of $76.38. The distribution of the real estate, widow's dower, on May 6, 1806, was among the following heirs: Samuel Gary, Martha Davison, Sarah Jones, heirs of Hannah Davis, Elizabeth Brown, John Gary (who has purchased the rights of his brother Amasa, removed from Connecticut), William Gary, Nathan Gary and Josiah Gary.

Josiah Gary's epitaph reads: Remember | Death | In Memory of Mr. | Josiah Gary who | died May 23, 1780 | in the 72 year of | his age | Mortals we are | none can deny | My weeping friends | forbear to cry | As I am now | soon you must be | Prepare for death | and follow me.

JOSEPH⁵ GARY (Nathaniel, ⁴ Nathaniel, ³ Nathaniel, ² Arthur) was born probably in Ashford, Conn., Nov. 8, 1721, and in his childhood removed with his parents to Enfield, Conn.

When he was of age or shortly before that time he removed to Worcester, Mass., and married in Marlborough, Mass., April 16, 1741, his own cousin, Ruth Goodale, born in Marlborough, July 10, 1721, the daughter of Benjamin and Hannah (Gary) (12) Goodale. They resided in Worcester, where Joseph Gary bought land in 1742, and in 1746 his home lot of 24 acres, which he sold in 1752 and removed to Lancaster, Mass., where he resided till his death in April 1779. In Lancaster he was associated with other families by the name of Gary and Geary, none of whom however were known kinsmen of his, being descendants of Thomas Gary, an early settler of Charlestown, Mass.

His will, dated April 2, 1779, mentions his wife to whom he left one-half of movable estate and £100 each to his five married daughters, and all the residue to his only surviving son, Reuben Gary.

John⁵ Gary (Joseph,⁴ William,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur¹) was born in Voluntown, Conn., in 1750. He married Deborah Browne, who is said, by tradition, to have belonged to the Quaker family of Brownes in Lebanon, Conn. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and his grave in Plainfield is decorated with the marker of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. His home was successively in Voluntown, Conn., Coventry, R. I. and Plainfield, Conn. His name appears with great frequency on the land records of Windham County. One of the many deeds in which his name occurs is of more than ordinary interest, as the grantor of the same was Governor John Hancock of Massachusetts, and Dorothy (Quincy), his wife. The deed runs thus:

"I, John Hancock of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, State of Massachusetts Bay, in New England, Esqr. for and in consideration of the sum of £50 paid to my full satisfaction by John Gary of Plainfield, in the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, in New England, Trader, do give, grant, bargain, sell and confirm to said John Gary, a certain tract lying in Plainfield, which was acquired by Thomas Hancock, Esqr. of Boston in April 1752.

WILLIAM⁵ GARY (Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Nov. 16, 1758. He married in Pomfret, Feb. 4, 1799, Lucy Perrin, born in Pomfret, Nov. 15, 1772, daughter of Captain Samuel and Margaret (Hyde) Perrin, and sister of Captain Noah Perrin of Pomfret. Mrs. Gary was the granddaughter of Samuel and Dorothy (Morris) Perrin and of Lieutenant Ephraim and Margaret (Morris) (Griffin) Hyde. She was a descendant of Hon. William Parke, surveyor general of arms and ammunition for the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, and for over thirty years a deputy to the General Court, of Captain Samuel Williams of Massachusetts, Lieutenant Edward Morris and other Colonial worthies of note. She was a woman of marked individuality and high character, a devout Christian and prominent as a leader and exhorter in the Methodist denomination in Pomfret. She brought up the Rev. Dr. George Gary, her husband's nephew, after the early death of his mother, and was a strong influence in shaping his future career of usefulness and distinction. After the death of her husband she removed to the State of Illinois in 1837.

William Gary

William Gary was a man of unusual mentality and long noted in Pomfret as the schoolmaster of the town, and was familiarly known as "Master Gary". The Gary School in Pomfret takes its name from him. In the distribution of his father's estate in 1781 he received 271 acres of land, and after the death of his mother in 1806, inherited the family homestead in Pomfret. With his brother-in-law, Captain Perrin, he was conspicuous in the Methodist denomination as a Class Leader. He was often in local office and was a gentleman of social prominence and active in business affairs of his town. He served as lister of Pomfret in 1795, 1796, 1797, 1798, 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1807, 1808, 1809 and 1810 and was chairman of the board of listers during the last six years of his service, he was also Grand Juror in 1806. He died in Pomfret, July 20, 1817, aged 58 years and 8 months, and his body was later removed to Warrenville, Ill., for interment beside his wife, who died in that place, Jan. 28, 1844.

July 31, 1817, Mrs. Lucy Gary, widow, and Jedediah Perrin were appointed joint administrators of the estate of Mr. William Gary, deceased, of Pomfret. They presented the inventory of the estate Sept. 2, 1817: personal $1,119.65, real $3,535. The appraisers were Ithamar May and Asa Copeland. The inventory included the pew in the Methodist meeting-house at Thompson, Conn.

Oct. 3, 1826, the Probate Court for the district of Pomfret confirmed Jedediah Perrin as guardian of Erastus Gary, Harriet Gary, Jude Perrin Gary and Orinda Gary, minors, children of Mr. William Gary, deceased, at their request. In the same month Mrs. Lucy Gary, one of the adminstrators, moved for an order to distribute the real estate of William Gary, her husband deceased, which motion was granted, and Jonathan Nichols of Thompson, Captain Noah Sabin and Mr. Payson Grosvenor of Pomfret, were appointed distributors of the same. The distribution allowed one-third of the house and lands to the widow and the remainder to the children in equal parts.

Children of William and Lucy (Perrin) Gary: (born in Pomfret, Conn.)

54 i. Laura⁶ Gary, born Jan. 9, 1800.

Nathan⁵ Garv (Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Jan. 18, 1769. He was a life-long farmer in Pomfret. He married late in life, on Mar. 28, 1822, Sarah Fling, who was born in 1773, the marriage being performed by the Rev. James Grow, pastor of the Baptist church of Pomfret.

He died in Pomfret, Mar. 19, 1835, and his widow died Mar. 14, 1854. She is buried in the Wheelock Yard, in Putnam, Conn., where her epitaph reads: Sarah | wife of | Nathan Gary | Died | March 14, 1854 | aged 81.

Nathan Gary's will was presented for probate April 7, 1835. The instrument bequeathed to his wife the household furniture and an annuity of $60 a year, all the remainder of the estate was left to William Lewis Gary, the son of his nephew, Charles Gary. Asa Gary, his nephew (son of Josiah Gary, Jr.), was appointed sole executor. He resigned the trust, and in 1836 Charles Gary (son of William) was appointed in his place. The inventory amounted to $2,605.49.

The widow, Sarah (Fling) Gary refused to accept the terms of the will and on April 20, 1834, the court accorded to her one-third of the estate, which the laws of the state allowed.

The Widow Sarah Gary's will, dated Nov. 16, 1852, was presented for probate in Mar. 1853. It provided: "Silver spoons to my niece, Widow Lucy May, with whom I now reside, $100 to my nephew Asa Gary (son of Josiah), $100 to my nephew, Ithamar May, and the residue to my niece, Abigail Chapman, widow of Thomas Chapman of Ohio."

No issue.

AMASA⁵ GARY (Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., April 26, 1772, and was the youngest in a family of fifteen children. In early life he went to Middlefield, N. Y., and purchased a large tract of land of the Indians. He was to have all he could run around "from sun to sun." He carried a hatchet and blazed the trees as he ran. He encompassed a large acreage, and then having more time before the close of day, ran around a smaller tract, which was always called the "Garter tract." He built a log house and stable and then returned to Pomfret in 1793 where he was married, Feb. 7, 1793, to Sarah Holmes. With his young wife he soon returned to his new home in what was then the wilds of New York State. In less than a year and soon after the birth of his first son (who later became the Rev. Dr. George Gary) his wife died, in December 1793, and Amasa Gary again journeyed to Pomfret, Conn., on horseback, carrying his six weeks old son in his arms, depending on friendly Indian women by the way to nourish the child. He remained a widower for ten years and in 1803 married in Pomfret, Nancy Frizzell, born in Woodstock, Conn., Sept. 6, 1781 (private record). She was the daughter and only child of a Woodstock sea captain who shortly before her birth sailed for foreign lands and was lost at sea. After his second marriage Amasa Gary returned to Middlefield, N. Y.

When he purchased his land in Middlefield he had only what was known as an "Indian Deed," and as the country became more thickly settled, this was inadequate to legally hold the land. Through his neglect to get a deed from the Federal Government, and the shrewdness of a man who coveted this particular tract, he eventually lost all his landed property and the improvements which it contained. After the loss of his property he returned to his native town for a time. In the meantime his son, Samuel, then a lad of twenty, had gone to DuPage County, Ill., where his cousins Erastus Gary (56) and Jude Perrin Gary (58) were living. This was in the year 1835. Upon the advice of these cousins he took up government land, and through their assistance, was able to build a home and soon sent for his parents and two youngest brothers, who came to Illinois and made their home. This home was located in Naperville, Ill., and here Amasa Gary lived till 1837, when upon returning from a visit to his nephew, Erastus Gary, he was lost in a blizzard, within sight of his own home, and was frozen to death on the night of Mar. 6, 1837. His widow died in Genesee, Wis., Dec. 31, 1865.

Asa⁶ Garv (Josiah,⁵ Josiah,⁴ Samuel,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur') was born in Pomfret, Conn., Sept. 17, 1790. He was a life-long farmer in Pomfret. In 1833 he and his sister, Polly, as the only heirs of Josiah Gary, deceased, sold land in Pomfret to George Rickard. He married rather late in life, in Pomfret, May 13, 1844 (the Rev. Holmes Slade, officiating), Mrs. Julia Ann (Durfee) Randall, born in Killingly, Conn., Sept. 24, 1806, the daughter of Thomas⁵(William,⁴ David,³ William,² Thomas¹) and Sarah (Carder) Durfee. At the time of her marriage to Asa Gary she was the widow of Henry Randall. He died in Pomfret, Oct. 10, 1867, aged 77 years and 23 days, and his wife died there, April 3, 1865, aged 58 years and seven months.

Child of Asa and Julia Ann (Durfee) (Randall) Gary: (born in Pomfret, Conn.)

i. Asa H.7 Gary, born about 1845; he died in Wales, Mass., Mar. 26, 1888. His heirs-at-law were two half-brothers, Sanford H. Randall and John A. Randall. His will provided for the erection of stones to his parents, his aunt, "Polly Gary," and for himself. He and his parents are buried in Putnam, Conn.

Doctor George Gary (Josiah, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., in 1794. He married about 1822, in Pomfret, his first cousin, Lucretia Gary, born in Pomfret, Jan. 3, 1802, daughter of John and Asenath (Bartholomew) Gary. He was graduated from Brown University with the degree of A. B. in the class of 1820 and was later given the degree of M. D. He was a practicing physician in the village of Chepachet, town of Gloucester, R. I., till his early death which occurred there, Aug. 9, 1828.

In March 1826, Dr. George Gary and Lucretia, his wife, of Gloucester, R. I., for $650 sold to Asa Gary of Pomfret, Conn., all the right, title and interest in property of a certain lot of land in Pomfret, 25 acres, being the same land that descended to the said Lucretia from her honored father, Mr. John Gary, late of Pomfret, deceased.

The will of Dr. Gary was signed July 3, 1828, and offered for probate Sept. 8, 1828. His widow was named as the sole beneficiary and his brother Asa Gary of Pomfret, named as executor. The inventory of his estate presented an interesting list of scientific and medical works, including "The American Journal of Medicine and Science," Thompson's "Chemistry," Hedge's "Logic," and a Greek Testament and Greek Grammar.

No issue.

Reverend Charles Wesley Gary (William, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Nov. 1, 1801. He married in 1825, Melinda Morse, born in Sturbridge, Mass., April 25, 1801, daughter of Calvin and Mary (Dunton) Morse of Sturbridge and Southbridge, Mass.

In 1837 or early in 1838 he removed to Illinois, following his younger brothers, and settled on a farm in Gary's Mills, Ill., three miles west of Wheaton and two miles south of Turner's Junction (now West Chicago). In March 1837 he as guardian of his son, William Lewis Gary, was permitted to sell real estate in Pomfret, Conn., as he "expects to soon move to the State of Illinois." He was for many years a preacher of the gospel in the Methodist denomination, and conducted a large farm in Gary's Mills. He served for many years as a Justice of the Peace and after the organization of the National Republican Party in 1856 was affiliated with that party and served in various local offices in his town and in the County of DuPage. He died in Gary's Mills, Ill., Aug. 31, 1871, and his wife died there Jan. 13, 1863, in her 62d year.

Erastus⁶ Gary, Esq. (William, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., April 5, 1806. In the distribution of his father's estate in 1826 he received two parcels of land, described in the court records as follows: "the first, containing 6 acres, bounded, beginning on the east side of the road leading from the Gary School House to Elisha Wheaton's, $24\frac{1}{2}$ rods, south of the northwest corner of the farm, etc.," and "the second, 7 and $\frac{1}{4}$ acres, leading from the Gary School House to the Pomfret factory." This property he sold to his oldest brother, Charles, in 1827.

In the fall of 1831 Erastus Gary, Jesse C. Wheaton, who married Erastus Gary's sister, and Warren L. Wheaton, who married Erastus Gary's niece, went west and became the pioneer settlers of DuPage County, Ill. Erastus Gary located first in the township of Winfield and built the first mill there, which for some time he operated, and from which the settlement took the permanent name of Gary's Mills. A little later he lived for a few years in Warrenville, Ill., which place was the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucy (Perrin) Gary after her removal from her Connecticut home in 1837. About 1846 he established his permanent home on a large farm in Wheaton, Ill.

The municipality of Wheaton owes its establishment and much of its present prosperity to Erastus Gary and his companions, the Wheaton brothers, and these three in truth may be styled the founders of this now important western city.

Mr. Gary was a man of strong personality, innate ability and great perseverance. He was a practical agriculturalist and for many years carried on his farm on an extensive scale. He was a large land owner and was rated as one of the most substantial men of DuPage

County. He served for many years as a Justice of the Peace and held other offices of local consideration. In his young manhood he had been a successful teacher of the local schools and served in the militia of Illinois in the Black Hawk War, having at one time been stationed at Fort Dearborn and later engaged in transporting provisions on Lake Michigan.

He was the close friend and associate of many of the leading men in the early life of Chicago, among whom may be mentioned Judge Hiram H. Cody and Col. Henry F. Vallette (a brother-in-law of Mr. Gary), and these men and others of like stamp were almost weekly callers in Mr. Gary's hospitable home. Mr. Gary was an earnest Christian gentleman and a man of the strictest integrity. From his small beginning in his western home, by the dint of industry and perseverance, dominant traits of his character, and an almost prophetic judgment, he acquired a competence equal to the wants of a numerous family and the dignified comfort of his declining years.

He married in Warrenville, Ill., Oct. 22, 1841, Susan Abiah Vallette, born in Stockbridge, Mass., July 23, 1819, the daughter of Jeremiah and Abiah (Mott) Vallette, who removed from Massachusetts to Illinois in 1832. Mr. Vallette, the descendant of an old French Protestant family, was born in Richmond, R. I., June 4, 1764, and died in Wheaton, Ill., Dec. 1, 1848. His wife to whom he was married in Lee, Mass., Oct. 14, 1797, by the Rev. Alvan Hyde, was 16 years his junior. Mrs. Vallette who died in Wheaton, Mar. 9, 1862, was descended from many of the Colonial families of Old Windsor, Conn.

Mrs. Erastus Gary has been described by those who knew her intimately as a most superior woman. She had a deeply spiritual nature and was a diligent and accomplished Bible student. Before her marriage she had been a successful school teacher.

Erastus Gary, Esq., died in Wheaton, Ill., May 7, 1888, aged 82, and Mrs. Gary died there, Mar. 18, 1874, aged 55. They are buried in the cemetery of the city of Wheaton. Their memory has been perpetuated by the beautiful Gary Memorial (Methodist Episcopal) Church, in Wheaton, the gift of their son, Judge Elbert H. Gary of New York.

JUDE PERRIN⁶ GARY (William, Josiah, Amuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Pomfret, Conn., Feb. 3, 1811. He removed to Warrenville, DuPage County, in 1837, and bought a large farm about a mile from the centre of the town where he continued to reside till his death. He was a prominent layman of the Methodist Church and a citizen of standing and worth.

^{*} Andrew Mattocks died in the service of his country in the Civil War.

He married first, April 16, 1837, in Aurora, Ill., Margaret L. Kimball, born Nov. 1, 1812, daughter of the Rev. William⁷ (Abraham,⁶ Abraham,⁵ Aaron,⁴ David,³ Benjamin,² Richard¹) and Louisa (Lathrop) Kimball, of Aurora, Elgin and Wheaton, Ill. She died in Warrenville, Ill., July 25, 1862, and her husband married second, Lydia Sherwood Rose. Jude Perrin Gary died in Warrenville, Ill., in May 1881.

Reverend George Gary, D. D. (Amasa, 5 Josiah, 4 Samuel,3 Nathaniel,2 Arthur1) was born in Middlefield, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1793. He suffered the loss of his mother when he was only a few weeks old and his father brought him back to the Connecticut home of the family on horseback when he was less than two months old, where he was brought up, principally under the care and training of his aunt, Mrs. William Gary (See 47). He became one of the foremost Methodist divines in America and spent the greater part of his life in the eastern and central part of the state of New York. He was a Trustee of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., from 1843 to 1855. He died in Vernon, N. Y., Mar. 25, 1855. full account of the life and services of this distinguished preacher and missionary, together with tributes to his memory, appears after the list of his children in this biography. He married first, in Oswego, N. Y., Jan. 30, 1817, Laura Thrall, a descendant of William Thrall, one of the early settlers of Windsor, Conn. She was born in Torrington, Conn., Nov. 18, 1792, and died in Cazenovia, N. Y., Mar. 8, 1827, aged 34. Rev. Dr. George Gary married second, April 16, 1828, Elizabeth Armitage, born in Cambridge, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1798, and died in Herkimer, N. Y., Sept. 21, 1838. He married third, Oct. 22, 1839, Susan Adams, born in Steuben, N. Y., April 29, 1804. She died in Steuben, July 4, 1883. There were no children by the third marriage.

OF THE BLACK RIVER CONFERENCE.

1809-1855.

George Gary was born in Middlefield, Otsego County, N. Y., on the 8th of December, 1793; his parents having migrated thither from Pomfret, Conn. After the death of his mother, which occurred when he was about two weeks old, his father returned with him to Pomfret, where he had himself been born, and had spent his early years. Here George remained until he entered the itinerant ministry.* He frequently heard his father and others talk of the circuit preachers who had ministered to his mother during her last illness; and he was delighted to learn that his mother, through the instrumentality of these preachers, had indulged the Christian's hope, and passed joyfully to her final rest. In these touching statements he was of course deeply interested; and he began to feel, at the same time, an interest in sacred things, and a veneration for Methodist preachers.

He never indulged in immorality in any form, and he seems to have had little relish even for ordinary youthful pleasures. In the summer after he was thirteen years old, he began to observe regular seasons of private devotion, though he did this rather in obedience to the dictates of a somewhat awakened conscience than from any particular relish that he felt for devotional exercises. On Dec. 7, 1807, under the preaching of the Rev. Elijah R. Sabin, in Pomfret, having become deeply impressed with a sense of his own sinfulness, he was enabled, as he believed, to accept of an offered Saviour, and thus to find rest to his soul. This change in his feelings occurred on the evening of the day before he was fourteen years old.

Notwithstanding his previously blameless life, religion wrought a very perceptible change in his character; and his daily work furnished the most satisfactory evidence that he was born from above. In March 1808, his mind began to be exercised on the question whether it might not be his duty to devote himself to the ministry. He had many painful misgivings on the subject, but he kept all his thoughts to himself, until, at length, he became satisfied that the Master was calling him to engage in this work. By often reading and pondering the seventh, eighth and ninth verses of the first chapter of the Prophecy of Jeremiah, he was not a little assisted in forming his purpose. In December 1808, when he was about fifteen years of age, the Rev. Elijah R. Sabin, his Presiding Elder, had frequent interviews with him, and gave him advice appropriate to his circumstances; and, under his directions, young Gary commenced holding meetings. In the spring of 1809, Mr. Sabin took him to various places on his district, at which he somewhat exorted, and sometimes formally preached. In the month of May, at the last Quarterly Meeting for the Conference year on the Pomfret circuit, he was licensed to preach, and recommended to the New England Annual Conference, as a suitable person to be admitted into the travelling connection; and, within a few days of the time that he was fifteen years and a half old, his name was on the records of an Annual Conference as a travelling preacher, - the youngest candidate ever received in the Methodist-Episcopal Church.

He was sent to the Barre circuit, in Vermont. As he mounted his horse to set out for his field of labor, — a journey of some two hundred miles, — his uncle, who was a Methodist, and withal a man of more than common shrewdness, addressed to him some words of advice which he never forgot. "Never," said he, "pretend that you know much, George; for if you do so pretend, the people will soon find out that you are sadly mistaken; neither tell them how little you know, for this they will find out soon enough." As he went on his journey, he felt no small degree of anxiety as to what was before him; and, when he arrived on his circuit, the people could not easily be persuaded that such a stripling had been sent as their preacher. But scarcely had he commenced his labors, before his extreme youth, associated as it was with undoubted piety, and excellent sense, became an attraction to them, and the people soon began to throng to his appointments. "In my Presiding Elder, Thomas Branch," he writes, "I had just the friend, counsellor, and father I needed. Mr. Branch was affable, tender-hearted, kind to the timid and young, — a model Methodist preacher, and made a happy impression on my mind at the beginning of my ministry."

He attended the Conference of 1810, and attracted great attention as the youngest minister whom any of the members had ever seen. Bishop Asbury laid his hands on his head, and, with patriarchal simplicity, blessed him in the name of the Lord. "We cannot." he said, "promise you ease, or honour, or money; but work enough while you live, and the crown of life when you die." He was appointed to the Union circuit, in Maine. At the Conference of 1811, he was ordained a Deacon, and sent to Orrington, Me. Here he found an excellent counsellor and efficient helper in Enoch Mudge, who then resided in that place. To the influence of that venerable preacher he subsequently attributed much that gave efficiency and acceptableness to his own ministry. In 1812, he was appointed to Georgetown and Boothbay, near the mouth of the Kennebeck river. In 1813 he was transferred, at his own request, to the Genesee Conference, within which his father then resided, and was appointed to Herkimer; in 1814 and 1815, to Otsego; in 1816, to Sandy Creek; and in 1817, to Utica. From 1818 to 1821, he was Presiding Elder of the Oneida District; and, from 1822 to 1824, of the Chenango District. In 1825, he was Conference Missionary. In 1826 and 1827, he was Presiding Elder of the Chenango District; and, in 1828, of the Cayuga District. In 1829, when the Oneida Conference was formed, he became a member of it, and was appointed to Marcellus. From 1830 to 1833, he was Presiding Elder of the Oneida District. In 1834, he was appointed to the Oneida Mission, and in 1835, to New York Mills. In 1836, he was transferred to the Black River Conference: during that and the three succeeding years, he was Presiding Elder of the Herkimer District, and, in 1840, sustained the same relation to the Oswego District. In 1841, he was stationed at Vienna. In 1842 and 1843, he was again Presiding Elder of the Herkimer District.

In 1843, the condition of the Methodist Mission at Oregon excited much interest, and it was thought to demand the supervision of some person of financial ability and practical wisdom. Mr. Gary was selected as being well qualified for such an enterprise, and he consented to take the appointment. After making the necessary preparation for the voyage, he took passage in a vessel that sailed around the Cape, and in due time he safely reached his destination. He remained at Oregon four years, and succeeded in giving a new impulse to the mission, and greatly extending and improving its operations.

Having thus accomplished his object, he returned to the North, and resumed his place in the Black River Conference, and served the Church with his usual ability. In 1848, he was appointed to Steuben, and, in 1849, to Arsenal Street, Watertown, N. Y. From 1850 to 1852, he was Presiding Elder of the Adams District. In the latter year he attended the General Conference,—the last one that he ever attended,—and was there brought forward by his friends as a candidate for the Episcopacy. He received the votes of the Genesee, Oneida and Black River Conferences for that office, in the General ballot; but he manifested no desire to be chosen, and no disappointment at the failure. In 1853, he was appointed to Camden; and the next year he asked and received a superannuated relation. The remarks with which he accompanied this request, were truly pathetic, and produced a profound sensation in the Conference. He died, in great peace, on the 25th of March, 1855.

FROM THE REV. JOHN DEMPSTER, D. D., PROFESSOR IN THE GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 26, 1858.

My dear Sir:

I am happy to comply with your request in giving you my impressions of the character of the Rev. George Gary, as derived from a somewhat intimate acquaintance with him. He has left behind him a highly honored name, and I am glad to second any effort for perpetuating it.

He was, as you are probably aware, a mere boy when he entered on the itinerant ministry. Small in his person, fair in his complexion, and not yet manly in his voice, he attracted the curious no less than the devotional. In our own age, a youth of fifteen summers, preaching to thousands, would awaken less surprise than did his ministry half a century ago.

He then preached almost daily, traversing the hills of Vermont, living amid utter strangers, and enduring with a sage's equanimity the painful vicissitudes of an early Methodist itinerant. The remarkable balance of his faculties was indicated by that calm, unshaken purpose that bore him unscathed through the praises and persecutions incident to his vocation. As he passed from circuit to circuit, every year saw him steadily advancing towards the culminating point of his noonday strength. His graces evidently matured with his years, and his pulpit ability was marked by a corresponding improvement.

His constitutional qualities admirably fitted him to brave the hardships inseparable from our early ministry. Rarely did he betray any excitement out of the pulpit, though he had far more sensitiveness than belongs to most excitable minds. He was especially affected by any expression of deep reverence for the ministerial character. He often adverted, with a tremulous voice, to the following incident which occurred in his own youthful ministry: - "After evening service," he said, "in a sparsely settled neighborhood, an elderly gentleman invited me to take lodgings at his house that night. I accepted his invitation, and accompanied him to his home, and found that he had no family but his aged wife. After supper and family worship, they asked me to occupy the bed in the room where we were sitting. I did so with some embarrassment, supposing that they would themselves sleep in the chamber. But what was my surprise, on waking towards morning, to find them both by the fire in their chairs, which they had silently occupied during the night. Delicately alluding to it in the morning, they both assured me that they were amply repaid for sitting up during the night, by the honor of entertaining one of Christ's servants. Never," said he, "did a sense of personal unworthiness more overwhelm me."

In what may be called the second period of his ministry, his utterances in the pulpit were deliberate to a fault. In reference to the undue space between his sentences, one of his auditors playfully said to him,-"A good sailor would perform a voyage to the East Indies and back again before your next sentence." He replied, - "But are you sure that the contents of the sentence would not be worth more than the cargo from the Indies?" So marked was his modesty that he never could have made such answer in sober earnest; but every one who heard him preach would have acknowledged that there was force in the repartee. One of his most prominent characteristics was caution. He reached no important conclusion without having made himself perfectly sure in respect to his premises; and this was so well-known that, with his intimate friends, his opinions were held as well-nigh oracular. His most effective speeches before the Conference derived their power not so much from their sifting analysis or their consecutive reasoning, as from the acknowledged authority of the speaker. Those who heard him, felt that they had a right to assume that, underlying his expressed opinions, were sufficient reasons, which had passed through the crucible of his own mind, and therefore they could afford to accept them. His recognized wisdom as a counsellor secured to him great influence in the deliberative bodies of the Church.

Though many minds were richer than his, both in original powers and varied acquirements, few possessed his maturity of judgment on all subjects that came within the range of his thoughts. His social character was distinguished for simplicity and amenity. He gladdened the circle he entered by the perpetual sunshine of a cheerful spirit. Without any of that stately reserve by which social enjoyment is so often chilled, he became a central point of attraction in any company into which he was thrown. The flow of conversation, free alike from forced cheerfulness and artificial restraint, was checked only by the introduction of some learned or difficult question; and then he ingeniously contrived to keep silent as to his own views, and to elicit the opinion of others. So intensely odious to him was every effort at display, that he often studiously concealed his own superior knowledge, even at the expense of lowering the intellectual tone of the conversation. But he made amends for this fault, - for which it really was, - by the freedom and cordiality that pervaded his intercourse on all the ordinary topics. And, indeed, in spite of this self-concealment, the wisdom of the sage, blending with the warmth of the friend and the hallowed unction of the Christian, would often deeply imbue his conversation. In his playful moments, he would indulge in wit; but its flashes enlightened and cheered without scorching or consuming. This mild lustre of his social character depended on no concurrence of events around him, but on the deep resources of his own genial spirit; and it never ceased to gild the saddest scenes of his pilgrimage.

But the whole man was nowhere so advantageously exhibited as in the pulpit. In ascribing great excellence to his sermons, however, I do not mean to intimate that they were without defects. Too great generality, or, in other words, too little individuality, might be predicated of most of them. They indicated that he had a deeper acquaintance with man than with men; with the attributes common to all hearts than with those peculiar to each heart. He exhibited the common heart in its deepest, darkest feelings, with the skill of a master, but he rarely traced down to its source and up to its results what was peculiar to the individual character. By thus substituting too much the generic for the specific, he ignored some of the richest resources and mightiest weapons of the ministry. Still, however, he was, especially in the latter half of his life, surpassingly powerful in the pulpit. Though his inspiration always appeared to be in his theme, its intensity was very likely to be graduated by the number and interest of his auditors. The deep fires within burned most brightly when thousands hung upon his lips. Though his voice, in volume, was not extraordinary, yet, at such times, it became the channel of a tide of emotion that swept over the crowd like a mighty wind. I have seen at Campmeetings the strolling throngs collected into a solid mass by the mysterious power of his thrilling appeals, all within the compass of his voice seemed perfectly controlled and well-nigh entranced. Nor would the spellbound thousands stir till he ceased speaking; and then the movement of many of them was towards the altar for prayers. The matter of his sermons corresponded with the structure and habits of his mind. They were at the greatest possible remove from logical forms, and metaphysical intricacies; and large portions of them lay but a single step from first principles. He enforced admitted truths by striking combinations and startling applications. Few extemporaneous speakers compressed more ideas into so narrow a compass of words, and fewer still ever preserved so much distinctness, where the thoughts were so closely condensed. When his sermons, consisting of such compacted materials, were set on fire by the glow of his spirit, they fell upon the minds of his hearers with a force that was quite resistless. was never a great reader; but selected his books with characteristic discrimination. The few great minds with which he communed through this medium, were rendered powerfully and consistently auxiliary to his own intellectual growth. An exhaustless source of improvement he found in the varied realities of life.

Seizing on the general in the particular, the work of classification became with him a confirmed habit, so that all things were laid under contribution to the wealth and discipline of his mind. This power to read a lesson in any part of the objective universe, and especially in every indication of human character, gave a naturalness and breadth to his pulpit instructions, which could not fail to awaken the admiration of every intelligent hearer.

But I cannot close this communication without saying something of his glorious departure from the world.

The disease which finally terminated his life, was insidious in its progress, and awakened little apprehension of a fatal issue until a few weeks prior to his death. From that period, his sufferings were intense, but he bore them not only with patience but with absolute triumph. Not only did his mind remain unclouded to the last, but its vigor seemed to increase as his physical strength decayed; and you might almost say that the Christian experience of half a century was compressed within the last three weeks of his life. As he drew near to the closing scene, he exclaimed, - "Thanks to my Saviour, the hour of my release has nearly come!" But his highest transports were qualified with the profoundest humility. On being asked how he viewed the sacrifices which he had made as a minister of Christ, he replied,— "I have made none — I can only hide behind the Cross." On being told that his sufferings would probably end that day, he replied, - "My sufferings have been great, but my consolation has been greater." When a bright Sabbath morning dawned, - his last, - he exclaimed with an air of mingled peace and triumph, - "This would be a lovely morning on which to pass away;" and then, with his spirit glowing like the sun, and his eyes directed to the heavens, he cried out,—"Christ does every thing right-grandly-grandly." His characteristic timidity and reserve in speaking of his own Christian attainments, were now displaced by the tide of light which burst upon his exultant spirit. The clouds had all passed away, and the glory of a higher life seemed to have become the element of his being. Had one actually returned from the abodes of glorified humanity, he could scarcely have exceeded this dying saint in the interest and confidence with which he would speak of the realities of the spirit land. And this assurance grew firmer and more triumphant, as life was gradually ebbing away, until the scene closed, and left the pale face illumined with a radiance that came from beyond the veil.

Very sincerely yours,

JOHN DEMPSTER.

FROM THE REV. NATHAN BANGS, D. D.

New York, November 2, 1859.

Dear Sir:

You ask me for my recollections of my much esteemed friend and brother, George Gary; and I give them cheerfully, because I have nothing to record concerning him but what is pleasant to myself, and may perhaps be profitable to others.

My first acquaintance with him dates back to about the year 1820, when I was a Book Agent in the Genesee country, where he was then labouring; but we continued in more or less intimate relations with each other as long as he lived. Mr. Gary was not of imposing personal appearance. He was very small in stature—I should think not much above five feet—and was proportionally thin. But his countenance had a pleasant and intelligent expression, and gave promise of what you actually found in him,—a sober-minded, discreet, judicious man. I should say that of his natural as well as his Christian character humility was the leading characteristic. He had a low opinion not only of his Christian attainments but of his intellectual powers, and, wherever he was, he seemed always disposed to think that the lowest place became him. There was not the semblance of affectation in any of these demonstrations; but they were evidently the result of a deep inward conviction of personal inferiority and unworthiness. But herein he actually did himself great injustice; for, though I should not rank him among the greatest intellectual lights of his time, of his denomination, I should attribute to him qualities, both intellectual and moral, that gave him much more than ordinary power over the minds of his fellowmen.

As a Preacher, Mr. Gary was solid, evangelical and instructive. He had a sonorous voice, and distinct articulation, and could be heard with great ease by a large audience. His manner of utterance, though deliberate, was unembarassed, and not otherwise than agreeable.

There was not much of imagination in his sermons, or of passion in his delivery; but in both he was calm, solemn and impressive. His preaching was especially welcome to those who loved to hear the Gospel in its simplicity and purity. Perhaps Mr. Gary's most prominent intellectual characteristic was a sound, far-reaching common-sense. He was evidently a diligent student of human nature, taking lessons as well from the world within him as the world without him; and the results of his observation and experience he brought to bear effectively and to excellent purpose on his intercourse with his fellow-men.

He was often put in requisition to adjust difficulties, and I believe his efforts in this way were generally availing. The mission upon which he was sent by Bishop Hedding to Oregon was one of considerable delicacy, and, by his great skill and sagacity as well as his urbane and pacific bearing, he succeeded admirably in accomplishing the desired end.

In private life Mr. Gary was a model of all that is praiseworthy and of good report. He was sociable, cheerful, amiable, gentle, — indeed he was altogether a highly attractive person. There was no limit to the confidence which his friends reposed in him; and even those who knew him but slightly, needed no other assurance than their own observation furnished them, that he was a good man. He was one of those men whom you always love to meet, and with whom you have no fear that your interviews will be too frequent and too long.

Affectionately yours,

N. Bangs.

FROM THE HON. GREENE C. BRONSON, LL. D.,

CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW YORK AND COLLECTOR OF THE PORT OF NEW YORK CITY.

My dear Sir:

In my early years I occasionally attended Methodist Camp-meetings, and now have in mind one which was held, if my memory serves me, in the county of Oneida, not far from forty years ago. At that period, most of the Methodist preachers in the Western part of the State were without much school-learning, either in letters or Theology; but they were good men, full of zeal, and labored with great earnestness in their calling. Their sermons were for the most part made up of warnings and exhortations, and were delivered with great vehemence both of voice and action. The hearers were generally of a class to which that mode of preaching seemed best adapted. Camp-meetings were composed of families and individuals collected from a large district of country, who pitched their tents in groves, and worshipped in the open air for several successive days. In the intervals between sermons, praying circles were formed in front of the tents, and in other places within the camp. A single person commenced praying in a low tone of voice, and, as he advanced to higher notes, was joined by others, until the whole circle was engaged with great fervour in the same exercise. Other praying circles were formed in rapid succession until the whole congregation, - men, women and children, were employed in supplication, praise and thanksgiving, and shouting glory and hallelujah at the utmost stretch of their vocal organs. The sound, like that of many waters, might be heard in still weather at the distance of two or three miles from the camp. On the occasion to which I have referred, in the early evening, and at the close of a season of general prayer, a signal was given for preaching, and the sermon was, I think, to be the last one of that gathering. Though I had but little expectation of being edified by what might be said, I determined to stay and listen to the opening, if not to the whole discourse. A modest and unassuming young man appeared upon the preachers' stand, when the tumult of voices ceased, and silence reigned throughout the great congregation. He had a countenance and manner which testified to a humble spirit within. He commenced in a comparatively low though distinct voice, forming a striking contrast to the scene which had just passed, and took for his text the words of Paul-"Nor then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God." I will not, at this late day, undertake to recall the particular plan of the sermon nor the preacher's general train of thought, but the discourse appeared to me to be both able and eloquent, and fully equal to what might have been expected from a talented and faithful minister of more mature years and higher advantages of education. The thoughts were logically arranged and perspicuously and forcibly expressed, the gestures were appropriate, and it was in all respects a calm and dignified, though earnest, exposition of the Divine truths which stand connected with the text. Though there was abundant evidence of deep feeling and fervent zeal on the part of the preacher, there was nothing like rant, nor any thing which should offend the taste of the most fastidious hearer. The attention of all was thoroughly aroused, and, with the exception of an occasional interjection of "Glory" and "Amen," from the listeners, such as are commonly heard among Methodists, profound silence reigned throughout the camp. All seemed to be deeply impressed by the mighty theme, the decided talent, and ardent piety of the youthful preacher. I cannot say how much my judgment may have been influenced by the peculiar circumstances of time, place and association, but it is certain that I was strongly moved, and the discourse has ever since stood out prominently among the recollections of my early manhood. I inquired the name of the eloquent young preacher, and was answered — Gary; and, though I have never seen him since that time, I have always kept him in mind, and, in answer to repeated inquiries, as long as he lived, have been gratified by the uniform response that the Rev. George Gary held a high rank among the eminent and excellent Ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Very truly your friend,

GREENE C. BRONSON.

ELBRIDGE⁶ GARY (Amasa,⁵ Josiah,⁴ Samuel,³ Nathaniel,² Arthur¹) was born in Cooperstown, N. Y., July 10, 1813. He lived with his brother, Rev. Dr. George Gary, from the time he was eighteen till his marriage in 1835. He then purchased a farm near his brother's where he lived until 1843 when he removed to Wheaton, Ill., here he remained but a year and then removed to Jefferson County, Wis., and purchased a large farm, two and one-half miles from Lake Mills. In 1866 he purchased another farm in Milford, Wis., where he made his home till his death, Mar. 20, 1873. He was a life-long farmer and successful in his occupation. He married first, in Herkimer County, N. Y., in December 1835, Harriet Faville, born Feb. 2, 1808, and died Sept. 26, 1861, in Lake Mills, Wis. He married second, in Milford, Wis. (the Rev. Alpheus Hamilton officiating), Mar. 31, 1862, Judith Hoyt, born in Lyndon, Vt., April 20, 1835, daughter of Kimball and Sally (Sanborn) Hoyt. In her childhood she removed with her parents to Wisconsin and was educated at Mrs. Jones's Young Ladies Boarding School in Watertown, Wis., and also at Milton College, Milton, Wis. She was a teacher for several years prior to her marriage. She now resides in Sauk Centre, Minn.

Deacon Samuel. Gary (Amasa, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in Cooperstown, N. Y., May 18, 1815. In 1835 he emigrated to Illinois and through the advice and assistance of his cousins, Erastus Gary (56) and Jude Perrin Gary (58), took up government land and engaged in farming in Naperville, Ill. Soon after his arrival and after his house was built he sent to Connecticut for his parents and two youngest brothers to join him. They had been living in Pomfret after the loss of their New York State home through a defective deed. He married in Warrenville, Ill., Mar. 11, 1840, Sarah Tyler Norcross, born in Baldwinsville, N. Y., April 7, 1819, daughter of John and Matilda (Wilbur) Norcross. In 1846 they removed from Naperville to Palmyra, Wis., near the home of his wife's relatives. He later removed to Lake Mills, Wis., where for some time he rented a farm next to that of his brother Elbridge Gary, and then after a brief residence in Eagle, Wis., he settled in North Prairie, Wis., which was his home till 1885 when he went to reside with his daughter in Genesee, Wis. He was for over 20 years Postmaster of North Prairie and a Justice of the Peace and also served as Deacon of the Methodist church. His wife died in Lacrosse, Wis., while there for medical treatment, May 6, 1885, and Deacon Gary died in Genesee, Wis., Mar. 18, 1888.

HARRIET ELIZABETH RICKARD (Laura Gary, William, 5 Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur was born in Pomfret, Conn., June 10, 1826, and after the early death of her father, removed with her widowed mother to Wheaton. Ill., here she married June 25, 1848, Hon. Warren Lyon Wheaton, born in Pomfret, Conn., Mar. 6, 1812, the eldest son of James and Nancy (Lyon) Wheaton of Pomfret. Mr. Wheaton with his brother Jesse C. Wheaton and Erastus Gary were the founders of the present city of Wheaton, Ill., moving from their native town in eastern Connecticut in 1831 to the then wild region of "the far West." Mr. Wheaton was a man of excellent judgment, and acquired a handsome property. He was for many years one of the most prominent citizens of Wheaton, serving as County Superintendent of Schools, a member of the Illinois Legislature and Illinois State Senate and as a trustee of Wheaton College, the formation of which was largely due to his labors and influence. Harriet Elizabeth (Rickard) Wheaton died in Wheaton, Ill., May 29, 1863, and her husband died there Feb. 1, 1903. He married second, Christiana Shugg of New York City.

He removed with his parents in early life to their new home in Wheaton, Ill. He married first, Ellen M. Guild, born July 7, 1846, daughter of Rockwell and Mary (Thatcher) Guild. She died in Wheaton, Ill., Sept. 11, 1870, and he married second, in Wheaton, Ill., June 2, 1873, Caroline H. Wheat, born in Bridgeport, N. Y., June 23, 1850, daughter of James D. and Louisa (Lilley) Wheat. Noah Gary, as he was most familiarly known, having dropped to a large extent his first name, served his country in the Defense of the Union in the Civil War. Later he was admitted to the Bar of Illinois and was engaged in the practice of law with his brother, Elbert H. Gary and Judge Hiram H. Cody in Chicago, under the firm name of Gary, Cody & Gary. He was a man of strong individuality and was highly respected for his personal worth and legal ability. He was much interested in genealogical and historical research and had accumulated a large amount of data for a genealogy of his own family, which collection was unfortunately destroyed by fire several years ago. He died in Wheaton, Ill., Feb. 2, 1894, in his 50th year. His widow now resides in San Monica, Cal.

Hon. Elbert Henry Gary, LL. D., Sc. D. (Erastus⁶ Esq., William, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur) was born in or near Wheaton, Ill., on his father's farm

Elbert H. Gary

Oct. 8, 1846. He was educated in the public schools of Wheaton and at Wheaton College, and was graduated from the law school of Chicago University, with the degree of LL. B., in 1867. He married in Aurora, Ill., June 23, 1869, Julia Emily Graves, born in Big Woods, Ill., April 14, 1849, daughter of Amos C. and Mary Ann (Buck) Graves. She died in Wheaton, Ill., June 21, 1902, aged 53. Mrs. Gary is buried in the Elbert H. Gary family mausoleum in Wheaton Cemetery. He married second in New York City, Dec. 2, 1905, Mrs. Emma (Townsend) Scott, born in San Francisco, Cal., July 9, 1876, daughter of Moses Downing and Melvina Dell (Collier) Townsend.

Elbert Henry Gary was admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1867, and to the Bar of the United States Supreme Court in 1882. He was for a few years Chief Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court of Cook County, Ill., and then engaged in the practice of his profession with offices in Chicago. He became one of the leaders of the bar and served as President of the Chicago Bar Association 1893–4.

He was President of the town of Wheaton three terms, and when it was reorganized as a city he was the first Mayor and served two terms. He was for many years President of the Board of Education of his native city. He was County Judge of DuPage County two terms (eight years). He was called upon to hold court in Chicago for a considerable period of his entire service as Judge, and presided over a number of important cases in other counties throughout the state. At the time of his retirement from the bar in 1898 he was General Counsel for several railroads and industrial corporations, and besides had a large general practice. His clients included two corporations engaged in the manufacture of steel products.

He had charge of the legal work connected with the organization of the Consolidated Steel & Wire Co. in 1892, and of the American Steel & Wire Co. in 1898. He took a leading part in the organization of the Federal Steel Co. in 1898 (financed by J. P. Morgan & Co). Most of the work, legal and otherwise, was done by him; and upon the completion of the organization he was elected President. He then retired from the practice of law and moved from Chicago to New York. He also took a leading part in the organization of the United States Steel Corporation (financed by the same bankers) in 1901. He is Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chairman of the Finance Committee, and the "Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation in general charge of its affairs."

Judge Gary suggested and took a prominent part in the organization, in 1909, of the American Iron & Steel Institute. It has now grown to large proportions. He is, and from the beginning has been, president of the same. Much concerning the steel industry is found in his published addresses delivered before the Institute. In 1911, after consulting leading members of the industry, he called an international meeting of iron and steel manufacturers to be held in Brussels on July 5th and 6th. He was unanimously elected to preside over this meeting. It was attended by groups of manufacturers from all the iron and steel producing countries, including the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium, Russia, Austria, Italy, Spain and Canada. Connected with this meeting and the various banquets tendered the delegates by citizens of London and elsewhere, there were many features of great interest.

Judge Gary has been a director in more than fifty leading corporations, including railroads, banks, insurance companies, and other industrial concerns, and was also a member of the Finance Committee or Executive Committee of many of them. He retired from most of these positions in 1914. He is a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, the Sons of the American Revolution, and of many leading social clubs of New York and Chicago. His home is at 856 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

He is an art connoisseur and has been a collector of art treasures. His benefactions include the Gary Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, in Wheaton, erected as a tribute to the memory of his parents, the Young Men's Christian Association building in Gary, Ind., and the Elbert H. Gary Library of Law, Northwestern University, Chicago.

Judge Gary was active in the location and in the building, for the United States Steel Corporation, of a steel plant in Indiana and also of a city at that point which was named for him. This steel plant is one of the finest and largest, and the city is already large and growing rapidly.

Judge Gary's ability as a lawyer, financier, man-of-affairs, public speaker and writer has been recognized by various academic honors, as follows: McKendree College, LL. D., 1906; University of Pittsburgh, Sc. D., 1915; Lafayette College, LL. D., 1915. On Jan. 25th, 1918, His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, decorated Judge Gary with the Second Class Order of the Sacred Treasure, on account of his valuable services in promoting a better understanding between Japan and America.

Harriet Ella Gary (Erastus, Esq., William, Josiah, Samuel, Nathaniel, Arthur') was born in Wheaton, Ill., Feb. 14, 1849. She was graduated in the class of 1869 from Wheaton College, and on Jan. 4, 1871, married in Wheaton, Rev. John Ellis, A. M., B. D., born in New Bedford, Mass., June 25, 1843, son of John and Mary (Roche) Ellis. He was prepared for college at the Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham Mass., and was graduated from the Northwestern University with the degree of A. B. in 1867 and received his A. M. from the same university in 1870, and his degree of B. D. from the Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill. His scholarship was high and he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He was at the beginning of his ministry affiliated with the Methodist denomination, but became a Congregationalist in a few years. He held charges at Sandwich, Aurora, Princeton and Hinsdale, Ill. In 1894 he retired from the ministry and removed to Evanston, Ill., for the educational advantages his children could receive there. He was acting editor of the Transatlantic Art Publishing Company of Chicago and the editor and chief author of a volume on Chicago and the Worlds Columbian Exposition. He died in Evanston, Ill., Sept. 29, 1909, and his widow resides in that city. Mrs. Ellis is a woman of wide cultivation and has been an extensive traveller. Credit should be given her for the discovery in England, made three years ago, of the baptism and identity of the immigrant ancestor of this family, Arthur Gary, later of Roxbury, Mass.

OF CHARLESTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS

SOME DESCENDANTS OF STEPHEN GARY

STEPHEN' GARY was an early inhabitant of Charlestown, Mass., the year of his arrival has not been ascertained. He was born about 1650/1, as he deposed in court in 1679 and gave his age as about 28 and again in 1690, when with uniform consistency, he stated his age as about 38. In early life he was a servant to the Hon. Richard Russell of Charlestown and it is evident that at a still earlier date he had been indentured to Capt. Richard Sprague (1605-1668), also of Charlestown, who mentions him in his will of 1668, "Stephen Gary, my servant by indenture, whose time is not expired." In one early record he is styled "Stephen Gary, bellman." He married first, in Charlestown, Aug. 14, 1673, Mary Manuell, probably a sister of John Manuell of Charlestown. After her death he married Patience —. Very little of the details of his life are obtainable. His will was proved Jan. 16, 1691/2 and in this instrument he mentions his wife Patience, "now with child." The inventory of his estate amounted to £76. This amount was shown in the inventory presented by Patience Gary, "Relict Widow of Stephen Gary, late of Charlestown, deceased," in Volume 6, page 141 of the Miscellaneous Records of the Middlesex (County) Probate Court.

After the death of Stephen Gary, his widow married (intentions) in Boston, Sept. 7, 1696, Gooing Foote. After his death she removed to Nantucket, Mass., where she was housekeeper for William Gayer, Esq., a very prominent man of that island. She is mentioned in his will, in 1710, as a beneficiary, and there is a tradition that he desired to make her his wife. She married third, Stephen Pease of Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket. In a deed recorded in Duke's County Stephen Gary of Taunton calls Patience Pease of Edgartown "my honored mother," thus one child of Stephen, the immigrant, by his second marriage is accounted for.

Stephen² Gary (*Stephen*¹) was born in Charlestown, Mass., in 1691/2. When he was about twenty years old he removed to Taunton, Mass., where on Nov. 9, 1711, he married, Mary Gilbert, daughter of Eleazer and Elizabeth (Crane) Gilbert. In 1713 Stephen Gary and his wife "Mary Gilbert, now Gary" (an unusual wording) sold land in Taunton, which had belonged to Eleazer Gilbert, deceased. Stephen Gary lived in Taunton the greater part of his life, though there is some evidence that he passed a few years in Boston in middle life. He returned to Taunton however and died there between Feb. 2 (the date of his will) and Feb. 12 (the presentation of the same) 1749/50. His will mentions all his children, his eldest son being left one-fourth of his farm. widow was appointed guardian of her sons, Ebenezer and Seth, minors, "above the age of 14 years," in January 1750/51. In 1771, the aged widow of Stephen Gary, then residing in Rehoboth, Mass., was declared "non compos mentis," and a guardian was appointed over her estate. She died in Taunton in 1782, very aged. Her death record mentions her as "Mrs. Mary Gary, the mother of Major Elijah."

 - ix. Caroline⁵ Gary, born Mar. 25, 1805; married Oramel Griffin.

The following interesting account of Enos Gary and the founding of Rushford, N. Y., is an abstract from the history of that town, "Rushford and Rushford People," by Helen J. White Gilbert.

ENOS GARY, the first settler of the township of Rushford, N. Y., was born in Taunton, Bristol County, Mass., Sept. 23, 1757. He with two brothers, Seth and Loved, and one sister, Hannah, comprised the children of the household.

Enos Gary early moved to Lebanon, Conn., where he enlisted for the Revoluntionary War. He was in the mercantile business as an importer. His partner, a relative, went to England to pay an account and make purchases but died while on this business, and as no papers of payment were found on him, Mr. Gary was again obliged to send funds for settlement which he made in full and closed the firm's business. The opening of the Holland Purchase attracted eastern people so Mr. Gary, as the records in the Allegany County Atlas show, took up lot number thirty, about a half a mile north of Rushford Village, in 1808, moving his family from Weathersfield, Vt., where he had been in business about one year. The journey was made with an ox team. The party consisted of himself and wife, his son William and wife, and three other children, the youngest about five years of age. Arriving at Centerville, where Mr. Maxson had a few years before begun the settlement of that township, and leaving most of his family there, he and his son William and the lively girl Nancy, then nearly nine years of age drove south six miles, having previously blazed the way through the unbroken forest, on Jan. 1, 1809, to found a home and begin life anew in the wilderness. It was a great change from a mercantile life. On the ox-sled they had brought a kettle of coals the fire from which was probably kept for many years and kindled again on the hearth stones of many newly arriving settlers. Going to the neighbors to borrow fire was no uncommon thing in those days. The son William felled the first tree. They put up that day a log shanty, a lean-to, covered it with cotton cloth and there spent the night, having tied the oxen to trees and built seven fires about to keep off the wild beasts. The rest of the family came soon, and the next year his sons-in-law, William Gordon and Cephas Young, arrived, and a year and a half later his son, Charles Gary, and wife, also.

After making improvements for five years on this well located place, now the Isaac Weaver farm, Mr. Gary sold it for $1,000, and moved on to the road west, a half mile farther north, to what is now called the Thomas farm. Here he built a two-story house and set out an orchard, perhaps the first one in town. His son-in-law, Mr. Young, lived on the same farm on the lower road.

Of course Mr. Gary had to keep open house for the new comers, and as he was very sociable and friendly, his home was somewhat of a hotel for a while. Born about thirty miles from Boston, living in the stormy times that preceded and followed the long struggle for liberty, himself a soldier in it, he had a fund of anecdotes, stories and reminiscences and withal business experience, fitting him for an agreeable entertainer.

How he became acquainted with the Gordons is not known. Mr. James Gordon, a Scotchman, came to this country as a British soldier, but afterwards joined the Continental army. In one of his genial banters with his friend, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Gary, alluding to Gordon, said to those about, "This is the man I took prisoner." "Well," Mr. Gordon replied, "my son captured two of Mr. Gary's daughters, so I guess we are about even." Just how much of the taking prisoner was warlike no one now living can say. Mr. Gordon said as he took his pension, "I came over to fight you Yankees and now you are paying me for it," and also, "I have held the stirrup many a time for Washington."

Mr. Gary surveyed what is now Rushford township and marked the center by embedding a grind-stone in the middle of Main Street a little below the High School grounds. Nearly opposite this point in a cottage which is now the rear of the Morgan home, the early settler and his wife spent some of their later years till, too old and feeble for household duties, they were tenderly cared for in the home of their son-in-law, William Gordon.

Mrs. Gary, honored and respected, filled well her station, caring for her family and welcoming the new settlers. Before her marriage she was Miss Esther Buckingham, daughter of Jedediah P. Buckingham of Lebanon, Conn., a man of large family and of a name, somewhat noted in that state. A letter to Rev. F. E. Woods, from the war governor, William A. Buckingham, also born in Lebanon, states concerning the "Gary-Buckingham" genealogy, "no doubt we are relatives, for I have known no person bearing my name, residing in this country, unless it be a family in Maryland, who is not a descendant of Thomas Buckingham, one of the first settlers and one of the 'seven pillars' of the church in Milford, Connecticut."

Mr. and Mrs. Gary were people of refinement and genteel manners. He wore the Continental style of clothing (knee breeches with gold buckles), powdered hair and a wig for dress up. Mrs. Gary had silk and satin dresses. They were Presbyterians and had family prayer.

Mr. Gary was also a member of the Masonic fraternity, record of which is with Miss Ellen Gordon of Rushford.

Until their golden wedding anniversary and three years after, this worthy couple were permitted to journey together, then the beloved wife fell asleep, Aug. 27, 1841, aged 78 years, and Mr. Gary died three years later, Aug. 17, 1844, aged 87 years. On the morning of his departure he said, "I saw Esther last night and she was just as beautiful as when I married her." Their bodies rest in Rushford cemetery. Seven children and about forty grandchildren survived them.

The daughter, Nancy, by accompanying her father, Mr. Gary, on the first day of settlement, became thus the first white woman to stay in the town over night.

On Mar. 31, 1818, she was married to Ely Woods. For a wedding trip they drove with an ox team from Mr. Young's down to the present site of Rushford, where the people gathered to attend the raising of the first tavern, a log structure, at the present location of the village. To begin housekeeping they placed the furniture on an ox-cart and drove to the farm on which they both lived and died, having reared a family of eight children. A year after celebrating their golden wedding Mrs. Woods departed this life aged nearly seventy, Mr. Woods about ten years later aged nearly eighty-five. They were both earnest, religious people, he a class leader in the Methodist Episcopal Church for nearly forty years.

Judge WILLIAM T.5 GARY (Dr. Thomas Reeder, 4 Jesse, 3 Esq., Thomas, Charles was born in Cokesbury, S. C., Oct. 16, 1841. He was graduated from the South Carolina College, was elected a Circuit Judge of Georgia, and was appointed United States District Attorney for one of the Districts in Georgia, by President Cleveland. "He was the organizer of the South Carolina Club in 1869, which is still in existence, and was its first President. It is regarded as a State institution, and its object was two-fold: (1) to give a brilliant entertainment every year, during the State Agricultural Fair, in order that the gentlemen and ladies, from all parts of State, might have the opportunity of becoming acquainted, and (2) to separate, socially, those who were aligned with the State government, which at that time was in the hands of the negroes, aliens, carpet-baggers, and a low element of the native whites. No official of the State, at that time, who was in sympathy with the government, was elegible to membership, or could be invited as a guest of the Club. It was intended that those who ignored the traditions of the State, should pay the penalty of social ostracism. Dancing was a feature of the yearly meetings, but it was merely incidental, not the main object of the Club. He was an officer in the War between the States, with the rank of major. He served several times as a member of the Georgia Legislature, and was the author of the bill, providing for the erection of a Soldier's Home, which is now in successful operation near Atlanta, Ga." He was a Presidential Elector-at-Large of Georgia, in 1892, when Cleveland was elected.

He married Frances Phinizy of Atlanta, Ga., and to them were born four children. Judge William T. Gary died at his residence in Augusta, Ga., May 5, 1905.
